NEWS OF THIS VICINITY PITTSBURGH.

Henry Ziegler, of Smithville, has commenced a suit in ejectment against the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern Railroad company. He has retained Attorneys E. A. Lynch and John T. Lenahan to conduct his case. The suit is the outcome of trouble arising in consequence of the defendant's taking possession of a certain lot of land belonging to the plaintiff and appropriating it for its own use.

Considerable excitement occurred Saturday afternoon on North Main street. It was occasioned by the appearance of an outraged husband, a detective and a constable at the house adjoining the Adams brick building at the foot of Parnassus street and which has been occupied for the past three months by a man and woman who were known to the neighbors by the name of Wilson. The woman is the wife of a well-to-do German residing in Wilkes-Barre, and is the mother, according to the husband's story, of five small children. In January last she eloped with Wilson and the couple's whereabouts had ever since remained a mystery. The discarded husband employed detectives, who tracked the couple to New York and Philadelphia. The detectives located the couple in the latter city, but while about ready to arrest them they found their prey had flown. It appears the couple came to this place and after looking about for quarters settled in the house alluded to. Wilson since coming here has worked in the mines at Duryea. His financial condition, it would appear, is not what it might be, for not only was the erring woman required to work for him, but for two boarders also. The woman, it appears, had a mania for watching street cars. Every time the cars passed the door she could be seen by the passengers eyeing the occupants. It was while doing this a Wilkes-Barre man aboard the car recognized her and informed her husband, who had about given up all hope of finding her. The couple were taken to Wilkes-Barre for a hearing.

The Clear Spring shaft, which has been idle since the accident, will resume operations this morning.
William A. Collier of Connell & Co. at Duryea was the scene of a slight gas explosion yesterday morning. The explosion occurred in a chamber worked by several Poles. Mine Foreman James Jones ordered the men not to enter the chamber, but they disregarded his orders. On going into the chamber the flame of their naked lamp ignited the gas and the explosion followed. The men escaped with slight injuries.
Mrs. Alexander Law, of South Main street, who has been a patient sufferer for some time past with a troublesome ailment, will undergo an operation at the Wilkes-Barre hospital during the present week in the hope of regaining her health.

Well 27 will be the next attraction at Music hall. It will be presented by Madam Manville and her son tomorrow evening, supported by an excellent company.

In Memoriam.
We, the members of the Improved Order of Red Men, of Peckville, Pa., have been called upon to fulfill a sorrowful but a noble duty. We have been called upon to mourn the loss of one of our most active and conscientious members, David E. Stearns, and to offer to his bereaved family the sympathy of our brotherhood. But a short time since he, who is the occasion of our sorrows, occupied the highest position in the gift of the tribe and the performing of his duties was the admiration of all. But the life which seemed so promising has gone out and we again see the transitoryness of all things here below. His admonitions to his companions in life were: Take warning of me, avoid my errors, cultivate the virtues I have chosen, and would you rescue anything from final dissolution, lay it up in God.

CONDOLENCE.
Whereas, The Great Spirit in the wise dispensation of his providence, has by sudden death called from the midst of his usefulness and in the prime of manhood our well beloved brother, David E. Stearns, and
Whereas, His death has made a vacancy in the councils of this order which time cannot fill or man replace, and
Whereas, It is our duty to the memory of our brother that the surviving members of this brotherhood, who have so often listened to his words of wisdom and counsel, should express in a becoming manner our appreciation of the brother and the irreparable loss this order has sustained.

Resolved, That we extend our warmest sympathy and condolence to his bereaved family.

Resolved, That as a tribute of respect to the memory of our deceased brother the charter of our lodge be draped for a period of thirty days and published in the Scranton Tribune.

A. H. Jenkins,
George Cooper,
H. E. Barnes,
